

The 2016 Summer prehistoric archaeology lecture series, Corofin Co. Clare.

Brought to you by 'The Irish Fieldschool of Prehistoric Archaeology' and the 'Department of Archaeology, NUI Galway'

Lectures will be on at 8pm on Tuesday nights in the newly refurbished St Patrick's hall Corofin, Co. Clare

All lectures are open to the public - €5/€3.50 concession*

- May 31st Dr Stefan Bergh (NUIG). 'Isolated togetherness – Life on a Burren hilltop in the Bronze Age'
- June 7th Dr Alan Hawkes (UCC). 'Burnt mound structures: prehistoric houses, shelters or sweat lodges'
- June 14th Dr Kerri Cleary. 'Knowth, County Meath: Exploring a great passage tomb cemetery'.
- June 21st Mary Cahill (NMI). 'The origin of the Irish gold gorget – an exploration of the concept of the warrior prince in Late Bronze Age Ireland.'
- June 28th Christine Grant (UCD & NMS). Going walkabout on the Burren: re-discovering ancestral landscapes.
- July 12th Professor Gabriel Cooney (UCD). TBC.
- July 19th Dr Kate Leonard. (Global Archaeology). Global Archaeology: digging around the world
- July 26th Dr Neil Carlin (UCD). TBC.
- Aug 2nd Professor William O'Brien (UCC). Hillforts, warfare and society in Bronze Age Munster.

You can find more details about 'The Irish Fieldschool of Prehistoric archaeology' on the web @ www.prehistoricfieldschool.ie - follow us on facebook @ www.facebook.com/prehistoricfieldschool - or get more information by emailing us @ info@prehistoricfieldschool.ie

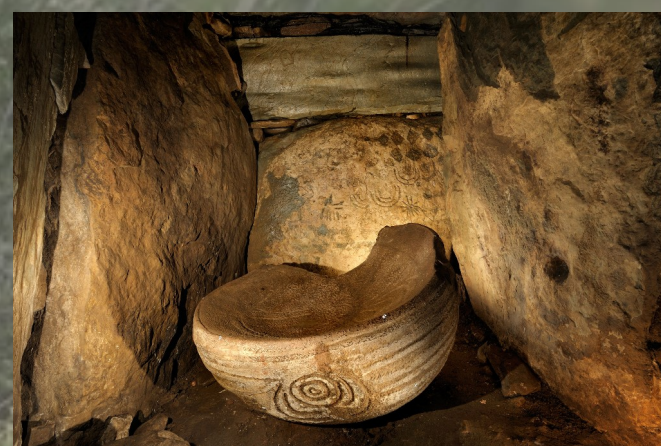

You can find the 'Department of Archaeology, NUI Galway' on the web @ www.nuigalway.ie/archaeology

A reconstructed steamhouse (Photo Dr Alan Hawkes)

Ardcrony Gorget (Photo NMI)

Inside Knowth (Photo Ken Williams)